Which tests should I take?

It is your responsibility as a test taker to find out which tests are required by the agency or state in which you are seeking licensure. You may wish to check with that particular state or agency, or visit the The Praxis Series Web site, which provides a comprehensive list of testing requirements by licensure area for each state, as well as each state's passing scores for each test.

What special accommodations are available for non-standard test takers?

If your primary language is not English (PLNE Testing). Test takers who meet ETS requirements will be allowed 50 percent additional testing time. Please note that PLNE Testing is not offered for language tests and is not available on all test dates. Please see the Web site for more information.

Monday testing. If your religious convictions prevent you from testing on Saturday, or if you are a member of the U.S. armed forces and have duties that prevent you from testing on Saturday, you may test on a Monday. Please see the Web site for details.

Testing arrangements for individuals with disabilities. ETS is committed to serving test takers with disabilities by providing services and reasonable accommodations that are appropriate, given the purpose of the test. Non-standard testing accommodations are available for test takers who meet ETS requirements. Please see the Web site for more information.

What should I know about ID requirements?

You must have acceptable and valid ID with signature and photograph to be admitted to a test center. ID requirements are strictly enforced. When scheduling your test, you must use exactly the same name as shown on the primary identification document that you will present at the test center. If your primary ID is missing either a photo or a signature, you must present a supplemental ID in addition to your primary ID. Please see the Web site for a list of acceptable primary and supplemental identification documents.

What if I need to cancel or reschedule my test?

To cancel a computer-based test, you must call the appropriate test center or Prometric Candidate Services no later than three full days prior to your appointment or your test fee will be forfeited. You may request a refund by submitting a refund request form to ETS.

To cancel a paper-based test and request a refund, you must submit a refund request form to ETS. This form must be received no later than the late registration deadline for that test date. Please note that registration fees are not refundable. More information regarding cancellation and refunds is available on the Web site.

When will I receive my scores?

If you took a computer-based (CBT) version of The Praxis Series tests, you can view unofficial Reading and Mathematics scores at the test center; however, due to the essay-scoring process, you cannot view your Writing score at that time. Official scores will be sent to you and your designated score recipients 10-15 days after you take the test.

Score reports for all paper-based (PBT) versions of The Praxis Series tests will be mailed approximately four weeks after the test date. If you wish to obtain your scores earlier, you may choose to purchase the Scores by Phone service. More details are available on the Web site.

Additional Score Reports (ASRs) are available for a fee. ASR request forms are located on the Web site.

The Praxis Series* tests gives test takers the option of canceling their scores. At the end of the exam, CBT test takers are given the choice to either view their scores or cancel them. If you take a paper-based version of the test and wish to cancel your scores, your Request for Score Cancellation form (available on the Web site) must be received by ETS no later than 7 days after your test date. You will not receive a refund if you choose to cancel your score. Canceled scores cannot be reinstated.

Where can I find test prep materials?

ETS provides several options for test preparation. All of these materials are created by the people who develop The Praxis Series tests and are available on the Praxis Web site. General Information and Study Tips and Reducing Test Anxiety are two free publications that provide general insight into the test-taking process. For more test-specific preparation, ETS offers the following three types of guides:

Tests at a Glance

Tests at a Glance (TAAGs) are available for each test, and can be downloaded and printed for free from the Praxis Web site. Each TAAG includes content outlines and sample questions in each content area with rationales for the best answers.

Study Guides

More comprehensive study guides for most of the tests are available for purchase through the ETS store. Each guide provides a combination of test preparation and practice, including:

- Key topics and exercises to guide your study
- Sample multiple-choice questions and answers with explanations
- Sample constructed-response questions with real responses from actual test takers
- Test-taking strategies to maximize success

Practice Tests

Practice Tests are available for purchase for many of the tests in The Praxis Series. Each Practice Test booklet includes an authentic paper-based test that was given at an actual test administration. These booklets also include:

- The correct answers and content category for each question
- A score conversion table so you can convert your score to a scaled score and compare your scaled score with your state's passing score

To order any of these publications, please visit the Praxis Web site or call ETS Order Services at 1-800-587-3161.

How much does it cost?

$40 registration fee per test date. (*One registration fee covers all tests taken on the same day and is already included in the computer-based test fees. The registration fee is nonrefundable.
